

You are invited to the 2022 MTA Higher Ed Workshop: By The Numbers- Understanding Your Institutions Finances for Bargaining and Organizing on September 30, 2022 at our Central Office located in Worcester, MA. 12 East Worcester Street, Worcester, MA 01604

MTA is working with NEA to offer in-depth training on higher ed finance for local leaders and staff. The goal of these workshops is to build capacity among staff and leaders to better understand and leverage higher ed finance information in bargaining and beyond.

Friday, September 30th through Saturday, October 1st

Two-day hands on workshop: By the Numbers— Understanding Your Institution’s Finances for Bargaining and Organizing Every aspect of academic life on your campus is influenced by your institution’s budget. This hands-on, interactive two-day training covers how to read financial statements, how accounting standards affect your institution’s financial health, and how to use financial data to calculate trends to anticipate bargaining positions as well as impacts on staffing. Participants will practice locating and analyzing elements of financial statements, including for their own institutions.
